"If any man will be my Disciple let him deny himself, take up his Cross and follow Me."

These words were spoken by Him . . . who hung on the Cross as here depicted. Will you, reader, deny yourself, and bear your cross by asking others to deny themselves for Christ's sake?

SELF - DENIAL

BY THE CHIEF OF THE STAFF

"If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross and follow Me."—MATTHEW XVI. 24.

It is a striking thought that Self-Denial is, perhaps, the only service that a man can render to God without the cooperation of some one outside himself. He may, of course, do what he does—unless it is a prayer, which would hardly be the idea of service—he is dependent upon either the assistance or presence of others.

Human nature is a collection of likes and dislikes. The great mass of men are governed by their preferences. What they like, they strive after; what they do not like, they neglect, or refuse, or resist. Many of these preferences, though not harmful in themselves, lead continually to that subjection of the will to self-interest, and help that self-satisfaction and self-love which are the deadly enemies of the soul. Now, true self-denial, is the denial for Christ's sake and the sake of souls, of these preferences. To say to God: "I sacrifice my way for Thy way—my wish for Thy wish—my will for Thy will—my plan for Thy plan—

The father's faith and prayer—From Thee have birth.

And, just because love is of such high origin, and is the greatest power in human life, it is often captured and held by the devil as his last stronghold against the most sensitive part of our nature; and it is here, therefore, that we often find blessed and profitable opportunities for self-denial.

Denials of the Affections.

Thy pleasant companionship, so grateful, so fruitful of joy, and yet so likely to tempt me from the path of faithful service, "Lord, I deny myself of it." That mastering affecis between me and Thee alone; it is the sacrifice of love."

How precious it must be to God to see such self-denial! When the true lover sees the woman he has chosen, leaving all for his sake; calmly laying down the love of father and family, and even braving the rebuffs and unkindness of those from whom before she has known nothing but affection, in order that she may give him her whole heart and life, how strong become the cords which bind him to her! Every sacrifice she makes for his sake forges an other bond, which will not easily be broken.

Denials of Our Gifts.

And is the Lord a man, that He should be behind us in loving with an everlasting love those who thus give up and deny their own lives for Him? No! a thousand times no! He will repay. Every self-denial is a seedling rich with future joys. For it is indeed true, that "He that soweth to the Spirit, shall of the Spirit reap life everlasting. He that overcometh shall inherit all things, and I will give him the morning star."

"Look not," says the Apostle, "every man on his own things, but every man, also, on the things of others." That is, even in the exercise of his choicest gifts and graces let a man forget his own in his desire to employ and bring forward the gifts of others. "Let nothing be done through strife or vainglory, but in lowliness of mind let each esteem other better than themselves." That is, in your own mind, take a humble view of yourself, your own powers, and your own worthiness, and hold your comrades in higher esteem than you hold yourself, in honour preferring one another to yourself. To some people that would be a very real self-denial.

"Recompense to no man evil for evil," though you know he well deserves it: "Avenge not yourselves;" "If thine enemy hunger, feed him; if he thirst, give him drink." "Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep." That is, deny yourself of your own joys, that you may enter into the sorrows of others; and lay aside your own sorrows and tears, and silence your own breaking heart, when you can help others by entering with joy into their joys.

You will see, beloved, that all this is work which no one can do for you, and that it is in a very true sense, high service to God as well as to man.

Now, then, is it with you?

Are you a self-denying disciple? If not, beware, lest it should shortly appear that you are not a disciple at all!

Wanted! Blood and Fire Salvation's, to Take Up Their Cross and Collect on the Streets For Self-Denial. Will You Be One?

my life for Thy life." This is self-denial.

Nothing can be more acceptable to a good father's heart than the knowledge that his son, living and labouring far away from him and difficulties and opposition, is courageously sacrificing his own preferences, and faithfully seeking to carry out his, the father's will. In such a son that father sees a reproduction of all that is strongest and best in his own nature. And so it is with the Heavenly Father. No greater joy can be His than to see the resolute surrender of His children's own will to His, and the daily denial of their hopes and plans for themselves and theirs in favour of His plans.

The precious things of earth—

The mother's tender care,

tion for wife, or husband, or children—so beautiful in its strength and simplicity, and yet so exacting in its claims—"Lord, I deny myself of the abandonment to which it invites me; I put it in its proper place, second to Thee, and to the work Thou hast given me to do." That love of home, and friends, and circle, which is so powerful a factor in life, and enters so constantly into all the arrangements and details of our conduct, influencing so largely all real plans for doing God's work—"Lord, I will deny it, when it is in danger of lessening my labours for Thee and Thy Kingdom." The pleasant hour, the quiet evening, the restful book, "I will lay them at Thy feet, for Thy sake, when they hinder me doing Thy will. It

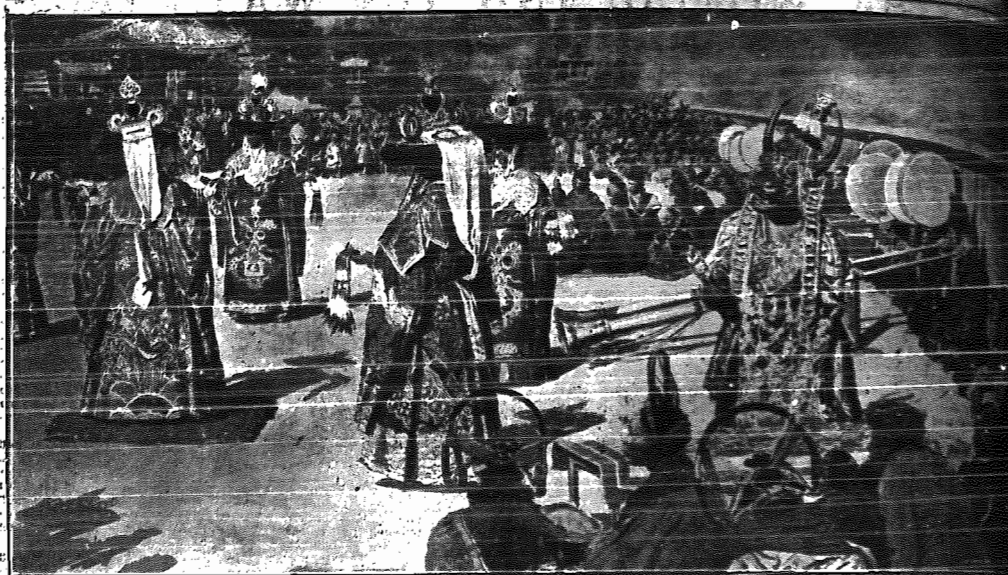

Denial of a Holy Sacrament.

That instruction on the things of earth, which is a necessary for every child of God, comes almost invariably by the agency or through the experiences of others.

How does this in the least detract from our absolute dependence upon God? The man who crosses the Atlantic in a steamship is no less dependent on the sea because he employs the vessel for his journey. We are no less dependent upon the earth for our sustenance because we only grate the wheat after it has been ground into flour and made into bread. And so, we are no less dependent upon God because He has graciously pleased to employ various means and simple instruments to guide and teach, and guide us. After all, no allowance has been made for the power and influence of intervening agencies, it is in Him we really live, and have, and have our being.

Denial of the Will.

But I return to my first word. There is one kind of service open to us, irrespective of circumstances and conditions, which can be rendered to God without the intervention of any one, and this we may truly call "self-denial." Such that quite properly we may say that description need never be known by any one but God. It may be a service indeed, kept between the man and his Lord alone.

Band Chat.

The Temple Band has welcomed Bandsman Fouracre, late of Chippenham, and Bandsman W. Dark, late of Croydon L.

The Strathroy Band appreciated the visit of Bandman Ward, of London, Ont., and feel grateful for the nice little sum raised for the instrument fund, as a result. The summer Band camps arrived in time for this weekend, and improved the appearance of the Band. Eight instruments have been purchased for the Band during the present Officers' command of the Corps.

The Lisgar Street Band is being led on very ably by Deputy-Bandmaster Dobney. The men number about thirty-five. They had their Band League Tea on April 14th. A good attendance was recorded; the Bandsmen's wives being present.

Bandsman Cunliffe has graduated from the learners class to the Senior Band ranks. He is the fourth member of Brother and Sister Cunliffe's family now playing in the Band.

Windsor Band has lost the services of Bandsmen Willmott and Labute, who have gone to Vancouver. Four new Bandsmen have, however, been welcomed.

On Thursday, April 21st, the Detroit, Mich., Band, accompanied by Adjutant Calhoun, gave us a musical meeting. A backslider returned to God at the close.—M. R.

Fernie Band is so far advanced that the latest Journals are being played (says Correspondent E. B.) Bandmaster Gallamore has resigned his position on account of his health, but still remains a Bandsman. Bandmaster George Goodwin (late of the Eastern Province), has taken up the baton.

Wychwood Band has welcomed Bandman W. Clark, late of Gainsborough, England. Brother Clark, who was converted as a Junior, and has held various offices in the motherland, has taken up monster bass. Band-Sergt. Attwell has been transferred from medium bass to solo cornet; Bandman F. White having taken over the former instrument.

WHERE THE DALAI LAMA REIGNED.

TIBET—THE FORBIDDEN LAND.

THE people of Tibet, where, we hope, The Army will some day be at work, are said to be born traders. The caravans of yaks or heavily-laden sheep, are interesting features of their snow-covered kingdom. The Tibetan women are partial to brightly-coloured dresses, which are fastened around the waist by red or green sashes. They wear clumsy top boots and an elaborate head-dress. The hair is usually done up in a number of small plaits, which hang down the back and are fastened at the ends with strips of gay coloured cloth. Ornaments of silver and beads and a bag with white bristles in a tassel help to complete the picture. They also adorn themselves with great pendant earrings. Tibet has been called the "Forbidden Land," and it is certainly one of the least known countries of the world, strongly shut in, as it is, by its glittering, snow-capped mountains, its forests, and guarded by people who are suspicious of strangers, and who have long owed spiritual allegiance to the Dalai Lama, their chief High Priest or Pope. It is certainly a land which is at once a mystery and a

The Tibetans take more care of their horses than of themselves. The animals are driven into the river with a view to thorough cleansing but they do not repeat the operation on themselves or their children. The calves and fawns tied to the tentpoles, receive more attention than the children, who, when the weather conditions are congenial, may be seen playing together entirely unclothed. In course of time the young Tibetan becomes perfectly at home on the saddle, and can take leaps on to the neck of running horses, while they are carrying down hill at great speed.

The much-talked-of prayer-wheel of the Tibetans is most in evidence at what are termed the "nocturnal devotions" of these interesting folk. At nightfall the people within the vic-ity of the 'golden-lit temple' are summoned to the house-tops by blast on a horn. The women and girls carry bundles of fragrant wood which is burnt in a small stove on the roof. As the smoke ascends, strange words are chanted and the prayer-wheel is set going by a man who sits cross-legged before it. Countless red paper lamps illuminate the scene, and for long hours strange cries and weird sounds of gongs, cymbals, and bells are heard.

Many Tibetans are fond of music and it is worthy of note that the chief instruments they possess are drums and cymbals. Is this of happy augury for The Army? Their needs are few, and one or two garments apiece, a matchlock, sword, flint and steel, a wooden basin, knife, and chopsticks suffice to content them.

A BUSY D.C.

Brief Summary of a Week's Doing.

Brigadier Morehen, the Divisional Commander of the Toronto Division has done some tall busting since his appointment to the Division. The following is a "run over" his doings in one week only—to be exact, from April 18th to April 23rd.

On Monday morning, he came to his office at T. H. Q., attended to correspondence, and then went to Wychwood, to find suitable quarters for incoming officers. In the afternoon he interviewed the officers of three of his Corps, respecting Self Denial; at night, he conducted an inspection and a census meeting at Rhodes Avenue, Corps.

Tuesday morning three more Officers were interviewed; a Council was attended, and a visit made to the Police Court, for the purpose of interceding on behalf of a delinquent. In the afternoon, and at night, the D. C. met the Census Board and conducted an inspection at West Court Calders, letters, etc., at the office were attended to between times.

On Wednesday morning interviews with several Officers, East Toronto Corps was inspected, and a meeting held with a number of Corps Locals. Another interview, this time Yorkville and then at night, a wedding at Riverdale.

Thursday morning saw a rushing through of his office; Corps records, statistics, plans, some telephone calls—everything down upon him at a rate that staggered no man. But the D. C. man came out as calm and collected as ever he was. In the afternoon the opening of the Work at Government. I met the Divisional Surgeon formed under his direction first time.

SOME SAMPLES OF SELF-DENIAL.

Captain, to Lieutenant:—"Come on, Lieutenant, let's boost up this Corps, until it goes higher than ever it has been before. You watch me."
 Lieutenant:—"Tlght; I'll watch and work as well, so will the Soldiers."
 Chorus:—"We will!"

The Old Lady's Mite.

What About Yours?

A Self-Denial collector was asked what donation to her card brought her the greatest blessing. She replied: "I received the greatest blessing at the close of a meeting held in a Home for the Aged. A dear old soul whispered that she wanted to speak to me. For a minute or two she fumbled about her person, and then leaning against me, as if to hide her hands, she squeezed several coins into my hand."

"Take it and use it for the Lord," she whispered, "It is a tenth of all I have received during the year in the home."

"I felt that my thanks was so small in comparison with the kindness of that modern widow's mite. I could not count the money, my heart was too full of joy. But when I reached the street, I glanced into my palm. There lay just seventy-five cents!"

"I can truly say that I received my greatest blessing from that donation."

His Name was not There.

How a Niggard was Made Generous.

"Self-Denial Week, sir. Could you help our funds?"

The business man looked across the room at the humble Captain who asked the above question—then frowned. But this did not daunt the Captain. She had resolved to get a donation from this man, who had made a name for himself by his niggardliness, and who had never, as yet, given a cent to The Army. And so she appealed.

The man was silent for a minute. It seemed a long minute to the Captain, at whose persistence the man was amazed.

"Let me see your card," he at last said. That one glance worked a miracle. The names of his fellow-townsmen were all there, and his was not. The cure was complete, and the Captain left the office, smiling, and with a five-dollar bill on her card.

He Made a Speech.

And Smashed his Target at a Stroke.

At a house in a fashionable quarter of a certain city a Cadet left a card giving information about Self-Denial week.

A Striking Story.

What Came of an Act of Self-Denial

The Captain was in poor health at the time. was the Self-Denial Effort, but she determined to take her share in the work, and the denying too. And so she and her Lieutenant lived on bread and water for a week.

One day a lady who heard that the Captain was sick, brought her a beautiful cluster of grapes, and said: "These are for you, Captain; not for Self-Denial."

"The Captain kindly and almost regretfully refused the fruit, whereupon the lady said, 'Well, remember, you will not get a donation for Self-Denial from me.'"

Eventually, the grapes went to a nurse, who divided them among the poorest of her patients. The nurse told them of the Captain's sacrifice, with the result that each patient sent a small donation to the Captain for S.D.

The donor of the grapes heard what the patients did. The incident touched her heart, and soon her name was on the Captain's card for a good donation.

He Got "The Lord's Money."

For many years poor Mrs. Jackson had regularly kept supplied with hard-earned dimes and quarters, a little box which stood in a prominent position in her room. The money it contained was set apart for the service of God, hence the box was

"Say, Harry, she said, 'Just give me the box, will you? I want it.'"

A moment later she was in the house with the box, and thus: "Mrs. Jackson, say to me: And he is certain that the money never went to a box like S.D."

A Decision for S.D. and

A young man who had moved with confidence to a benighted country in a remote section where he had been called a Self-Denial War Cry, went to the Army Hall and made a donation to assist our nation's work.

When he reached the hall, the line was in full swing, but he did not prevent him from going to the back of the line, where the Voice of the Lord was being heard. He not only did the donation to Self-Denial, but he himself to God.

It is now on the altar, surrender, in other words, a sacrifice.

No Other Way.

The Pilot's Reply.

A woman, who had taken on a steamer, was nervous and Her eye wandered from the waters of the harbor to the waves outside, and then to the bar, where the breakers dashed den rocks.

She happened to know it, and she tried his patience with less questions.

"Isn't there any way for me to clear of the reef and the out yonder," she demanded.

"Yes, but one. The way stay right where it is, and wait, till it falls to pieces at age," said the pilot, grimly. "I never can get anywhere of any use, without some chance in the water."

That is life. Whoever will of any use, or get anywhere, while must be prepared to wait his way through storm and shipwreck.—Australian T. S.

Don't fail to reach your Corps target, and don't think you've done enough when your target is reached, if by a little more effort you could get more money for the Kingdom of God.

A day or two later he called at the same house hoping for a donation.

"Come in come in" said the head of the house as he caught a glimpse of the Cadet at the door.

After a few minutes' conversation in the hall the gentleman led the Cadet into the grand reception room and introduced him to a company of ladies and gentlemen. "And now," said the host, "I suggest that our Army friend give us a little talk about his work."

The Cadet trembled from head to foot, but bravely spoke up, and with the aid of the facts and figures on his card, gave a talk which would have done credit to many a politician.

His hearers were highly pleased at what they had heard to be a great effort for a mere lad, and each one voluntarily signed the card for a substantial amount.

Joyfully did the Cadet turn his face toward the Training College, for he realized that he had smashed his first target.

Rewarded for his Trust.

What his Work-Wates did.

Brother B— was subjected to much abuse from his associates, because he joined The Salvation Army. Self-Denial Week had come round, and Brother B— feared some difficulty in smashing his target. This he had determined to do. Heading the card with a donation which he could ill afford, he started out.

One day in S.D. Week, the manager of the shop quite unexpectedly gave him notice to quit. This was indeed a trial to Brother B—. His wife asked if he still intended to give the amount promised for S.D. "Yes, my dear," he replied, "I will trust God for the future."

He did trust, and when leaving his situation, his wife slipped a purse of money into his hand, and so the target was smashed after all.

PERSONALITIES.

Colonel Howell has been engaged in Immigration Work and other Eastern cities for the few days. The rough work is keeping the Department which the Colonel is Head, at high pressure.

Colonel Turner launched a special effort on behalf of a new school, on the occasion of his visit to Hamilton, on April 23, 24, and Major Hay and Captain Laidlaw accompanied him, the latter Officer being in the town to carry out his work. On Sunday afternoon Major occupied the chair at the Colonel's lecture on The Salvation

Major Adby recently conducted the marriage of a Sister Soldier, who was married at the wedding of Captain Coombs, (conducted by the Commissioner) to a brother Officer Morgan, Secretary to the Hamilton Branch.

Major Rawling remarked to a friend the other day that it was only twenty-four years ago that the Temple was opened. He could be remembered quite well, the week following, in which one hundred souls were converted. Captain Hall, (now Mrs. John Spooner), was the first woman in charge.

Major Phillips, assisted by Staff-Sergeant Fraser and Ensign Coy, conducted a meeting at the Mercer Hotel, on Sunday, April 24th. The women stood up and signified their desire to live for God.

Major R. H. Hiscock and West, of Training College, Toronto, have been promoted to the rank of Lieutenant. Their appointments in the Salvation Army, are the Hamilton Branch, and Esther Street Branch, respectively.

Major and Mrs. Gosling have been appointed to take charge of the Hamilton Branch.

Major Norman, of East Toronto, has been appointed to take charge of the Hamilton Branch.

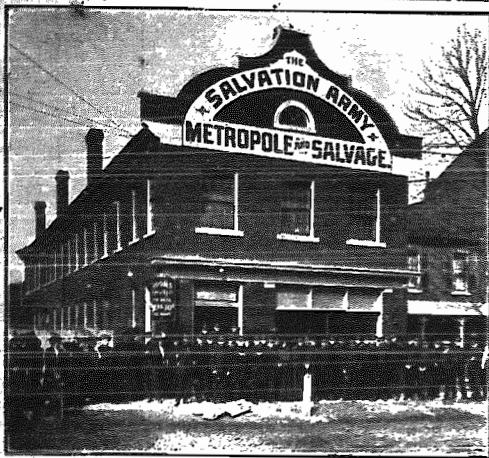

Major K. Clark has taken charge, of the Hamilton Branch, of a new branch of the Salvation Department.

Major Bell, of Calgary, has been appointed to assist at Bloor Street, Toronto.

Major Macdonald and Lieutenant R. Bowmanville, have fallen from the ranks. Lieutenant Black has been appointed to the Corps.

Interviewing in a Roman Catholic Prison.

Lieut.-Col. Pugmire in Montreal, Ottawa, and Toronto.

Lieut.-Col. Pugmire recently visited the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, in Montreal. This institution is the second largest of its kind in the Dominion, and has over five hundred convicts within its walls. The Colonel was graciously received by the Warden, who gave him every desirable freedom. He interviewed a large number of the prisoners. Major Taylor of the Metropole, in Montreal, has been able to secure work for scores of the discharged men.

The Colonel also visited Ottawa, and inspected our Men's Social Institution there, in charge of Ensign Edwards.

At night the Colonel conducted the meetings at No. 1, Corps, and eight souls sought salvation.

On Sunday, April 24th, the Central Prison, Toronto, was visited. Mrs. Lieut.-Colonel Pugmire Major Phillips Staff-Captain Fraser, and Adjutant Sima assisted the Colonel. A large number of the men expressed their intention to serve God.

The whole of the Social Department Staff in Toronto—including six-drivers, helpers and other employees—were addressed by the Colonel on Tuesday night, April 23rd. This meeting will be followed by others at regular intervals. Each will be of a spiritual character.

Adjutant Cummings, of the new Hamilton Metropole, reports that the rooms are steadily filling up night after night.

BANDSMEN LEAD MEETINGS.

At Montreal I. Citadel.

On Saturday and Sunday, April 16, and 17, the Montreal I. Band had full charge of the meeting at the Citadel. The men proved their ability to attract and impress sinners with the need of salvation.

The open-air meeting on Saturday night was brimful of interest from the outsider's standpoint: a vast crowd of people listened with rapt attention to the music, song and gospel truths. When the offering was asked for, it was readily given.

The Sunday morning business meeting was well taken hold of by Bandsman Gooder and Bandsman Tuttle.

The afternoon meeting revealed to many the talents of Bandsman Suberland, Bandsman Smith, Bandsman Laurie, and Bandsman Dunk. The latter comrades' lesson on the power of Christ to keep from sin and lead to Heaven, was very convincing.

The night meeting was a time when those who had a part to play felt the great importance of influencing sinners to free from the wrath of God to the Kingdom.

Bandsman Smith and Dunk touched many hearts by their impressive appeals to the sinners. Bandsman Tuttle gave a salvation address. The Songsters did their part well. Bandsman Dunk led the prayer meeting.—Onlooker.

THE CHIEF SECRETARY'S EXPERIENCES.

A Chapter of Accidents.

The Chief Secretary, in his journey to the North, is meeting with some of the vicissitudes and adventures that sometimes befall travellers in those regions that are being brought into subjection to the will of man.

Just after pulling out of Loggan, a landslide occurred in the vicinity, and when the train got to Field, a tremendous landslide took place about ten miles west, and the only way the Colonel's train could navigate the difficulty, was by the company building a track around the debris.

After considerable delay, the train pulled out of Field, but during the night, it was again held up. This time, a dynamite train had run into a freight train, telescoping several cars, and smashing two or three to pieces. The mystery is that the dynamite did not explode.

It is marvellous, all things considered, how the Lord looks after the well-being of His people. We must continue to pray for the welfare of the Colonel, and let us also remember dear Mrs. Mapp, who has so cheerfully surrendered her husband to the claims of the War.

At the time of writing the Colonel was again held up, this time, owing to the Skeena River not being navigable.

VISITED BY D. C. AND CAPTAIN TURNER.

Shelburne, N. S.—Major McLean was with us on a recent Monday night. Throughout the interesting revival service the Major claimed the best attention from a well-filled house.

Captain Turner spent the weekend, April 2nd and 3rd, here. The Captain assisted in a musical meeting on the following Monday. The proceeds of this meeting went to help pay off the debt on the Hall chairs. Electric Lights have also been put in the Hall. They make a nice improvement.

At the time of writing, Brother Weir is sick.—M. E.

An Anti-Tobacco Parade.

South West Arm.—On April 10th, The General's Birthday, we had a great time. Four comrades took their stand under the Flag, and at least two young men gave their hearts to God.

On Monday we also celebrated The General's Birthday. The Anti-Tobacco League boys marched out thirty strong, and a Sale of Work was held. $60.00 was raised for our new Hall fund.—Ensign H. Wiltshire.

Digby, N. S.—Our new D. C. is at ways on the move. He gave us a very special meeting on Wednesday night, April 10th, enrolling seven recruits and commissioning seven new Locals. He also gave us an interesting talk on the Doctrines and Principles of The Army. This address was an eye-opener for many.—A Soldier.

Georgetown.—On Sunday, April 19th we had Brother and Sister Towner with us all day. Mrs. Towner did the meetings in the morning and evening. Her lesson in the morning, on "Ye are the salt of the earth," was a blessing to us all.—J. D.

Let us make a bold stroke for the $50,000 that Canada should raise for the S.-D. effort.

THE COMMISSIONER'S

Last Words on Self-Denial. A Splendid Opportunity of Showing our Love for God.

MY dear Comrades and Friends,— Our Annual Week of Self-Denial and Prayer has again come round, and it is my pleasing duty once more to call your attention to it, and to urge upon every reader of the "War Cry" to do his or her best to make it the most successful effort we have ever had in Canada, Newfoundland, and Bermuda.

The dear Army Mother said, "Self-Denial will prove your love for Christ." How true this is. Was it not with a great gift that our Heavenly Father made salvation possible for us each? He so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, and, with gratitude we should about a big "Thank you," to Him for that Gift. He, in turn, asks a gift of us, of you, of me—not only of ourselves but of our means. He wants some outward expression of our love.

Our Self-Denial Campaign affords a splendid opportunity for bringing our gifts and laying them at His dear feet. Among the things needed are—money, goods, possessions. God has richly blessed you in your basket and store. He needs some of it for His service. Love does not hesitate to give gifts that cost something; nay, it counts it all joy so to do.

Self-Denial Notes.

By L. C. T.

On the eve of this, our great Annual Week of Self-Denial, we take the liberty of appealing to you, dear friends, asking for your hearty co-operation in this great Campaign.

Your assistance is respectfully requested in this effort. This is The Army's principal means of maintaining and extending the following operations:—

- 1.—Our Missionary Work in India, Africa, Japan, Korea, Java, and various other countries.
- 2.—Our Rescue, Prison, Labour Bureau, and Children's Shelter Operations, etc., in Canada, Newfoundland, and Bermuda.
- 3.—Our Training Homes for Officers for the above named Territory.

Doubtless, some Statisticians will be of interest to the general public in the above connection. The following are some of the interesting phases of Army warfare:

Countries and Colonies occupied, 51.
Languages in which salvation is preached, 32.
Stations, 8,574.
Officers and Cadets, 16,244.
Employees, 4,797.
Local Officers (unpaid), 55,857.
Bandsmen, (unpaid), 21,678.
Periodicals: (a) number, 72. (b) in languages, 24. (c) total copies per issue, 1,520,000.
Social Work: Institutions and Agencies, 904.

To spread this glorious work of salvation for body and soul, money is needed, and this appeal gives to one the opportunity to go out and collect it. Then, of course, there is the gift of your time for service. You have given some, can you not manage to give Him more? What a precious gift this is?

Then the gift of your talent more completely and fully than ever you have given them when in His service. The using of one talent enables you to get more talents, but withholding makes that which you have of less use. Then there is the gift of yourself for special service—perhaps for officership, in this or some other land.

Will God not give to you in return? He is always on the giving hand. These days of special soul-examination and prayer, the drawing out of our hearts in love and sympathy for a lost world, the bringing of our possessions for the service of God cannot fail to bring to our hearts some real soul gift from Him.

Will you not, then, at this special Self-Denial Campaign, see to it that from every standpoint you make the very most of the privilege, and God your Father will be glorified.

LONDON

THE GENERAL.

HOW HE SPENT HIS 81ST BIRTHDAY.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS FROM

Her Gracious Majesty the Queen, the Dowager Queen of Sweden, Statesmen, Religious Leaders and Others.

FROM the British War Cry we take the following concerning The General on his 81st birthday:—

As may be supposed, The General was the recipient of a large number of messages of congratulations on the attainment of his Eighty-first Birthday, which he celebrated on Sunday last, April 10th.

These messages, couched in the warmest and most cordial terms, came from the very highest in the land—her Gracious Majesty the Queen sending her felicitations—to the humblest follower in our ranks.

Premiers, Attorneys-General, Governors, Statesmen, our own Territorial Leaders of course, with leaders of religious thought, sociologists, and friends generally, combined to send a sheaf of greetings and good wishes which could not but be gratifying to our beloved Leader, and at the same time a cause of thankfulness to Salvationists everywhere that he has been so long spared to guide and direct the great Movement with which his name will be ever associated.

The General lives in the hearts of his people. His memory is imperishably written on tablets that will endure. We give God praise that he is in such excellent health and spirits, and pray that he may long be spared to lead us on to conquest and victory. Long live The General!

By the kindness of our beloved Leader, we are able to supply our readers with a selection from the many messages received, representing practically every country in which our Flag is flying, as well as the various branches of our work which are in operation.

Her Majesty the Queen telegraphed as follows:—

Sandringham, 5.48 p.m.

GENERAL BOOTH.

I wish you every happiness and blessing on your 81st birthday, and may God long preserve you to carry on your good and valuable work in His service.

ALEXANDRA.

To this gracious message The General dispatched the following reply:—

HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN.

10.4.1910.

I thank your Majesty for your kind congratulations on the occasion of my Birthday and hope to continue the work God has given me to do and in which I know your Majesty feels such kindly and sympathetic interest.

WILLIAM BOOTH.

The Dowager Queen of Sweden sent the following warm-hearted greeting: Having just heard that you celebrated your 81st Birthday yesterday,

I send my warmest wishes, thanking God for the great work He has enabled you to do, especially in Sweden.

The Premier of Manitoba (the Hon. Redmond P. Roblin and the Attorney-General (the Hon. Colin H. Campbell) sent the following:—

"Manitoba.

"Convey sincere congratulations to General Booth, with every good wish for future happiness and usefulness."

From Commander Eva Booth the following touching and filial message was received:—

"New York.

"Send you every blessing. My love, service, and devotion for time and eternity."

And from Commissioner Lucy Booth-Hellberg:—

"Live on. Eternal Love."

Representing the Department of the West, Commissioner Estlin says:—

"Chicago.

"Your American Western troops send you heartiest Birthday greetings. We honour and love you for your matchless labour, example, and achievements."

Assurances of faithfulness to the Flag on the part of The Generals' Indian and Ceylon troops are sent by Commissioner and Mrs. Booth-Tucker:—

"Simla.

"Assure The General that he can reckon on us as never before to stand by him in love and loyalty to the end. The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms; and He shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them."

Commissioner Coombs, commanding the Land of the Maple Leaf, who is in the West, telegraphs:—

"Winnipeg.

"We greet you with warmest love, true loyalty, and unchanging fidelity."

Congratulatory messages were received from Australia, Japan, Korea, from every Continental capital, and other centres.

In addition The General received congratulations from a very large number of personal friends. It would, of course, be impossible for us to publish a tenth of these, so numerous are they.

The London Daily "Mail," which published a message from our grand old Leader, says:—

"With enthusiasm unquenchable, General Booth spent the day in making plans for the future. Despite the burden of years and his impaired sight, the work he does in his home

THE WEEK-END'S DESPATCHES

THIS IS THE SELF-DENIAL WEEK.

Let Every Corps be Determined to Smash a Target.

EVANGELISTS ASSIST.

Our week-end meetings at Fernie were good, and well attended. On Saturday night we had with us the Revs. Mr. Lewtas and Reed, two evangelists who are conducting special meetings in town. Mr. Lewtas gave us a treat in the shape of a beautifully illustrated lecture on the Holy Land, and incidents in the life of Christ, showing about fifty pictures, which were very interesting.

On Sunday, the meetings were conducted by the members of the Band, and we had good times. The Bandmaster evidently believes in that chorus which says, "Everybody has a work to do in the great salvation war," for every Bandsman was allotted some duty, which, however, is a pleasure if done in the right spirit.

At night the Band rendered one of the latest selections, namely, "The Judgment."—E. B.

BROTHER BRETT, OF ROSSLAND, B. C.

Brother Arthur Brett, to whom we bade good-bye, has passed away. He went on a visit to his parents, whom he had not seen for some time, with a view of taking up farming. He arrived at his home on Thursday, was suddenly stricken down, and died on the following Sunday. He was unconscious for twelve hours, but shortly before passing away, he raised his hand and cried, "Faith, faith."

Our comrade leaves a sorrowing wife and two children. We pray that God may comfort and strengthen them just now.

Why do we mourn departing friends,
Or shake at death's alarms!
'Tis but the voice that Jesus sends
To call them to His arms.

THE GIRLS CAME AT LAST.

Barrie.—On Sunday afternoon, April 24th, Brother John Elwind, an Indian Soldier of the Rama Reserve, sang and spoke in his broken English.

For a long while in the night meeting no one would yield. At last, Ensign MacDonal took the unconverted that they must take the responsibility on themselves, for he would not close the meeting while a sinner remained in the Hall. The meeting was continued, until there were only two young girls left, and they both came to the mercy seat.—G. M.

Edmonton, Alta.—Two persons holiness on Sunday morning, April 17th. A backslider returned on Sunday afternoon, and one soul found salvation at night. Officers, Bandsmen and Soldiers are all in for God and souls.—J. N. P.

Hare Bay.—We have been favoured with a visit from Lieut. Colonel Rees, who held a meeting here on Thursday, April 7th. His address was very helpful and inspiring.—Lieut. Jones.

A GOOD SUNDAY.

And a Special Demonstration.

We had a splendid day on Sunday, April 24th, at Montreal II. The Bandsmen, especially, worked like Trojans.

At night we threw the meeting open for anyone, saved or unsaved, to choose their favourite song, and then it was sung. We had a very blessed time, and at the close, one man volunteered for Salvation.

We are shortly holding another enrolment of Soldiers.

The following is from the "Montreal Witness," describing a special "Go" we held last week:—

"What was declared to be, by those who attended, one of the most impressive services ever held by The Salvation Army in this city, was given to a crowded congregation at the Point St. Charles ICadel last night. The service was entitled, 'The Child, and What He May Become,' and consisted of fifteen scenes, (taken from real life), representing two 'life stories,' and from the first scene (showing an innocent babe asleep in its cot), right through the development of the two lives, the attention was held spellbound. At the close, the audience, visibly impressed, went quietly out and home to think.

"The service was accompanied by appropriate singing and Bible readings. Captain Turner has arranged to have this service repeated next Thursday night."

YOUR SELF-DENIAL WILL MAKE FOR THE EXTENSION OF GOD'S KINGDOM ON EARTH.

A BATTLE AND A SURRENDER.

Regina.—On Sunday night, four souls came out for salvation, and one for sanctification. Among the number was a young man who had been a constant attendant at our meetings for several months. He was made a special subject of prayer, but for a long time he resisted God's Spirit. On Friday night, the burden of his sins pressed so heavily upon him that sleep was impossible. Conviction followed him until Sunday, when he yielded to God, and is now triumphing over all his evil habits, and rejoicing in his Saviour. He came out on Tuesday night with another comrade for holiness.

We are going forward hopefully in our Self-Denial Effort.—Hope.

Riversdale.—Ensign and Mrs. Burton were in charge of the meetings on Sunday, April 24th.

The Band, under Captain Myers, went to East Toronto for the afternoon and night meeting. At night two young women sought salvation.

Sister Mrs. Cliffe has returned from the Old Land, and brought another sister Soldier with her. And so the ranks are increasing.

A WEDDING AT CALGARY.

A very pleasant event took place in The Salvation Army auditorium last night, when Bandsman A. Jones, of Vancouver, was united in marriage to Staff-Captain Jessie Lowrey, Matron of The Salvation Army Hospital in this city.

The ceremony was performed by Staff-Captain Coombs in the presence of a large audience. Mrs. Major Creighton acted as matron of honour to the bride, while Major Creighton assisted the groom. The Silver Band was in attendance, and rendered several choice selections.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and invited guests repaired to the home of Staff-Capt. Coombs where a beautiful wedding supper had been prepared, after which the happy couple left for Vancouver, their future home.

A CORPS OF REAL FIGHTERS.

They Enjoy Visit From Officers.

The devil has still to reckon with the little band of Soldiers of Dundas Corps. Lieutenant Champkin evidently abhors stagnation, and there are very evident signs of a good work being done.

Sunday, April 3rd, was a day of special blessings. We had with us Mrs. Major Green, Adjutant Cummins and Captain Walter. The holiness meeting was a feast of good things. The Adjutant's breezy talk in the afternoon, on the "Great North-West" was much enjoyed, as was also his powerful address at night. One soul knelt at the mercy seat.—J.

Inverness, C. B.—We had a visit from our worthy D. C., Major McLean, last Thursday, also Captain

MONTREAL CONSTITUTION GOOD IMPRESSION.

The Montreal Constitution were very warmly received at Montreal IV. Corps on Monday evening, April 18th, when a religious programme was given in aid of the East-End Corps.

This Brigade, which has been organised only about six months, is under the direction of Subaltern (Captain) Tate, made rapid progress, and at the present time has about twenty-five members.

The programme consisted of items which have come to be regarded as Army classics. The first piece, however, proved to be "The Marching Song," which was rendered with fine dash and vigour, and the "Ocean and its Wrecks," entitled, "Oh, how we are guilty sinners," was also very appreciated. On the hymns and the recitation of "How We Were Formed the Band," brought the house down.

The concluding song by the Sisters, "Eternal Christ of Love," the late Bandmaster Fry, who was sung with real fervour, made a deep impression, and fittingly closed the invitation, which was given by Staff-Captain Bloss, the former Chancery, who ably presided at the gathering.

Many were the pleasing and inspiring remarks made by visiting officers and outside musicians who were in attendance, and urgent requests were made for a return visit in the near future.—Songster (C).

CHEERING THE BUCK.

Sunday was a good day at the 1. The Soldiers met for a march, so that they could pay a White House to give Brigade to Mrs. Adby a welcome from the Bermuda, and also to cheer the Staff-Captain Barr, who has been sick. Then they went to Bess Street, to hold an open-air before the house of a comrade who has been invalid for a long time. The open-air was also held on Bess Street, before the home of another Israel, whose wife is ill.

God was very near all day, and closed our meeting with these inspiring salutations.

Our Band and Songsters are improving under the leadership of Bandmaster Hockaday. Adjutant Mrs. Mercer are the Corps Officers. A. H.

A LINE OF PENITENTS.

Muskel Harbour Arm.—On Sunday night the penitent form was met with penitents. On Monday we held a Soldiers' and Citizens' meeting. The power of God was all present.

The next night, a woman tried to express what the meeting was like, and said, "I never before felt so glad as the glory like that, in my life, in my eyes and blinded me, and not see anything but the face of a Cadet Winner."

Thirteen souls have come to a penitent form at Bay Roberts during the past week. Captain and Lieutenant Houlton recently held a meeting at Bay Roberts. A. H.

Blenheim.—Our Corps is making good progress, under the command of Captain Skipworth. A number of comrades have sought the blessing of a clean heart. Others are getting into uniform.

The forces are being re-organised; eight Locals were commissioned on Sunday the 24th. Two souls sought salvation in the past week.

Essex.—Captain Kinkadee and Lieutenant Moon led on Sunday, April 24th. Seven souls sought salvation, making eleven in three weeks.

Triton.—Fl. recently sought pardon at the mercy seat. The Soldiers are doing well, they know how to watch over the penitents.—J. M. H.

THE CONVERTED CLOWN.

...ing his Crowds at Brantford, Ontario. On Thursday, Sister was welcomed. On Saturday, she appeared on the market square, with us Envoy Tom Baker, a converted circus clown. He was dressed in his clown's clothes and attracted much attention from the crowd. In the Citadel on Darling St., two hundred persons gathered to hear his adventures prior to his conversion. Some of his anecdotes drew much laughter; on the other hand, some were very pathetic.

On Sunday morning a meeting was held by the Band on Colborne Street, the Soldiers on Dalhousie Street. At 11 o'clock the Envoy spoke at length dwelling on the contrast in his life now used for God, and his former life in the devil's service. In the afternoon, the Envoy gave the story of his conversion. At night Mrs. Sly, the Sergeant-Major of the League of Mercy, and Commandant Condie Sly farewelled, and brother Turner was welcomed from the Old Land. Envoy Baker listened to with rapt attention and recounted some wonderful scenes of conversion. One soul found salvation.

CHANCELLOR AT CORNWALL.

Some Good Results.

...Captain Bloss visited Cornwall on Saturday and Sunday, April 18th and 19th. On Saturday night a Band, clad in new uniform, gave musical festival.

The Jail was visited by the Chairman and Captain Smith early on Monday morning.

The meetings throughout the day, though affected by stormy weather, were well attended and profitable to all. Three persons sought salvation, and one, holiness.

A memorial service conducted by Captain Smith on the previous Sunday was very impressive; five souls sought salvation.—S. S.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES.

Meeting on Historic Spot.

...Bathory.—The 26th Anniversary of this Corps was held on Easter Sunday. One of the features of the day was the afternoon open-air meeting, held on the spot where the first open-air meeting was held. Representatives of the Corps spoke at night, referring to the starting of The Army's work in the town.

...Captain Royle, of Petrolia conducted these meetings. His visit was much enjoyed. Band-Sergeant Kempbell, of Galt, greatly assisted the Band, with the euphonium.

A Birthday Party was held, on Easter Monday night. Refreshments were served by the Sisters, and a musical programme was given. The programme of the evening clearing a path for the future.

...April 8th and 10th was a great success that will be long remembered in Bathory. Sergeant-Major and Bandmen Ward, of London, were with us. Nine open-air meetings were held, with large crowds of interested people. The Hall was crowded at night. We closed with a musical results, but believing that more work was done. Income $29.

...Marys—Envoy Bailey conducted a series of meetings here. The meetings are getting fired up for the coming year, and full uniforms are being ordered now.—S.

Dancing Dervishes in Egypt.

A Religious ceremony that is degrading and harmful. It is our duty as Christians, to enable these people to rejoice in the Lord. Will you deny yourself this week for their sakes, and Christ's?

SELF-DENIAL NOTES.

The Salvation Army has a network of machinery in operation. Having Officers stationed in all parts of Canada, we are in a splendid position to deal with poor unfortunates.

During the year, a large number of first offenders have been handed to us on what we might call "suspended sentence" from various police courts.

Missing Friends.

Out of 597 cases enquired for in one year, 169 were found.

For the benefit of the general public, we herewith submit the condensed opinions of a number of the leading public men throughout the Dominion.

His Excellency Earl Grey, Governor-General of Canada.

"There are many Canadian homes better and happier for the life work of General Booth."

Sir Edward Morris, Premier of Newfoundland.

"Your work is the very best investment of all the powers run possess. It is putting money in a Bank that will never fail."

Lieut. Governor Fraser, Nova Scotia.

"I sympathize with The Salvation Army, because of the service they have rendered in Nova Scotia."

Premier Whitney, Ontario.

"The results of The Army have commended themselves to me, and by the results I am satisfied."

Judge Forbes, St. John, N. B.

"I believe many have been saved from watery graves, because of the Rescue Work of The Salvation Army."

Premier McBride, British Columbia.

"No man living to-day has done so much to succour and uplift the unfortunate, as General Booth."

Hon. Frank Oliver Minister of the Interior.

"Men think better of each other, and the world is a better place to live in, because of the life work of General Booth."

Hon. A. Weir, Montreal, P. Q.

"The methods of The Salvation Army have brought light to many souls weighed with misery."

Hon. Mr. Cushing, Alberta.

"The greatest Army we have in God's battle today."

N. W. Rowell, K. C., Chairman, Layman's Missionary Movement.

"We welcome the hearty and sympathetic co-operation of The Army, as one of the most influential factors in Canada."

We mentioned in our News last week, that Canada raised $200,000 in connection with the Self-Denial Week last year. This year it would greatly rejoice the fact of the only the Commission, but of all concerned, it would reach the stated goal, let every people, realize that their assistance will be given, whether the contribution be small or great, in order to assist in bringing this about.

Do not withhold your contribution because nobody happens to call upon you, or because of the smallness of the same. If you are overlooked in general canvass, send your contribution to the nearest Provincial or Divisional Headquarters, or mail the same direct to Headquarters, Toronto.

at Hadley Woods is amazing. Two secretaries have to work all day long to keep pace with his output of letters and messages.

"After dictating messages until 11 p.m. on Saturday, he rose on his birthday morning before 8 o'clock, and, after a cup of tea and a piece of toast, rank for one of his secretaries. In response to a request from 'The Daily Mail' he was setting out his hopes and ambitions for the coming year, when he was interrupted by his grandchildren, who romped round him and won a sunny smile from the grey-haired veteran, who still stands quite erect when he leaves his easy chair.

Looking Ahead.

"How can I expect to realise all the cumulative longings of the years already spent?" A shadow crossed the old man's face as he dictated these words. Then his plans surged quick into his mind. They were set down thus:

"1.—The abolition of vagrancy and the diminution of drunkenness by compulsory detention of vagrants and inebriates, with proportionate efforts for their reclamation.

"2.—The complete reformation of our criminal system, the whole tenor of which should be in direction of reformation and prevention as well as punishment.

"3.—A wide application of our plans for settling the people on the land both at home and abroad.

"4.—A national land system, by which the worthy unemployed can emigrate to different parts of the Empire.

"5.—To make impossible the transportation of innocent and ignorant girls and women from one country to another for improper purposes.

"6.—To see The Salvation Army, in both its spiritual and social efforts, operating among the populations of all the great cities and in every corner of the earth."

May every good wish extended to our General, be abundantly realised.

Read his Self-Denial message, and act accordingly.

STRENGTHENING THE FORCES.

St. Catharines.—Major Green visited this Corps on Thursday, April 21st. His songs and earnest appeals were heard with pleasure by a good crowd.

A String Band has been formed and is proving a good help in the meetings. There are also six Corporals, whose usefulness is very apparent to the stranger.

Several recruits are soon to be enrolled. Captain and Mrs. Sharp are ever ready to increase our ranks.

NEW OFFICERS.

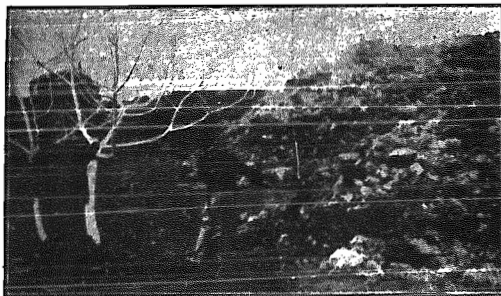

Lead Backsliders Home.

Cananac.—Captain Lawson and Lieutenant Pearce have been welcomed. Already they have led three backsliders to God. The Captain's assistance with the earnest is very timely. Our Band feels "good" over the matter.

The meetings of last week were well attended.—G. O'Brien.

St. John N. B.—Forty-five persons have sought salvation and sanctification in the last eight days.

Some Interesting Facts Concerning Mount Etna.

Italian Sentry Watching the Face of the Advancing Lava Stream.

The temperature of the surface lava has been taken and certified by

Mr. Frank Perret, the American Volcanologist, who nearly lost his life during the eruption of Vesuvius four years ago, and he has drawn attention to the extraordinary way in which the erupted lava retains its heat, for lava erupted twenty-eight years ago, is still hot. Deposits from the 1906 eruption, which had a temperature of 500 degrees Fahr. when it was first erupted in summer, only cooled to 150 degrees Fahr. The lava from the crater of Etna has not been active as it was two years ago. The latest reports show that the streams have changed their direction towards Monte Rinzazze and Monte Fargi.

Dovercourt's Sale of Work.

Opened by Wife of Lieut.-Governor
Gibson—a Festive Two Days.

"I have much pleasure in declaring this Sale of Work open." With these words, Mrs. Gibson, wife of the Lieut.-Governor of Ontario, opened a Sale of Work in the Droverscourt Hall, on Thursday afternoon, April 21st. Brigadier Morehen led the preliminaries, in which Mrs. Colonel Mapp took part. Mrs. Lieut.-Colonel Turner, Mrs. Lieut.-Colonel Southall, and the wives of other Staff Officers were also on the platform.

The Hall presented a gay appearance. Tri-coloured bunting, palms and flags had transformed the interior from a grey meeting place to a bright hive of industry, brought about by the presence of walls loaded high with goods—and they were "good" goods, too, as one was soon made aware by a Sister, who had the joy of seeing some of her handiwork being purchased "for Susie or Sammy." Sewing classes have been running at full speed for about ten weeks—the results were on view that afternoon.

Just by the door was a stall with an attractive display of books. A closer look and one discovered the "Trade" stall, where Army publications were being retailed with a deserving boost. In the centre of the stall was a large table, piled high and heaped with everything from a pocket handkerchief to a complete outfit for the baby. The craft of the needle was fully displayed by some of the daintiest of articles. On the left was a candy stall, which was making a record for customers. And no wonder, for the wholesome sweetmeats were made by the Brother soldiers, who were in charge of the stall.

Across the Hall was another stall, with pies, cakes, jellies and sandwiches, enough to make the eyes of any youngster fairly dance.

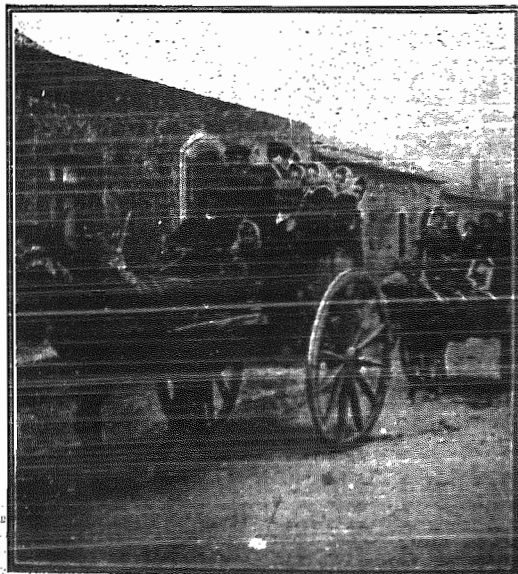

In a small room, a museum was conducted by the Young People of the Corps. There one could see curios from more countries than one has fingers—a fork that went through the Crimean War, clogs from Holland, a root from the Plains of Abraham, and coral from a South African sea.

The Sale, which lasted for two days, was a well-conducted affair, and gave credit to Adjutant and Mrs. Habbkirk and their workers. The proceeds were in aid of the new building fund.

HAPPENINGS AT THE TEMPLE.

The Local Officers at the Temple were commissioned on Sunday afternoon, April 24th. Bandmaster Nelson, from Belfast, and Bandsmen Dark and Fournace were also welcomed. We were pleased to have with us, Brother Matthews, an old Temple Bandsman, who is re-visiting Toronto. At night a splendid crowd attended the meeting. Major Findlay gave a stirring address. Five souls knelt at the mercy seat.

On Monday, a special meeting of the Songsters was held, and it was announced that Band-Sergeant Nicol would be their leader.

One gentleman has offered 99 years' lease of a piece of land, free of charge, upon which to build a Hall, while the manager of one of the factories has promised support to the amount of 250 kroner a year for five years, if the Hall is built before Christmas. Arrangements are being made to open a Corps there in the autumn.

An awakening is reported from Sandefjord, which appears to have been brought about in a characteristically Salvation Army fashion.

One night the Adjutant in charge of the Corps announced that she was prepared to visit the sick and poor at any time. Next day an unhappy-looking woman called at the Quarters, and asked if the Adjutant would come and see her husband, who was very ill. The Officer went and found that the family, who were vagrants, were in great distress. She relieved their immediate need, and attended the patient—who eventually sought salvation—until his death. She also prepared the body for the funeral, at which she spoke and sang to the mourners.

This became known, and a remarkable impression was made upon the town, with the result that crowds of people flocked to the meetings, and up to the time of reporting, 129 names had been registered. Nearly thirty of these are already recruits to the Army.

A stirring Easter Campaign was conducted by Commissioner and Mrs. Duce in Sydney. A magnificent tent was erected in a park in the centre

A striking feature of the Campaign was the musical Calvary Service.

The work on the "Rock" is going ahead, under the direction of Staff-Captain and Mrs. Leib. During 1899, three hundred and fifty meetings were held.

Japan.

Brigadier Yamamoto reports the following incident:

A woman who had been suffering with rheumatism for twenty years, determined to commit suicide, and, in attempting to do so, cut her throat with a sword. The doctor who subsequently attended her, gave her a copy of the "War Cry" with the remark, "This is the medicine to cure your sickness."

The reading of the "Cry" brought her much comfort, and she became a subscriber. She and her son have since moved to a town where we have a Corps, and both are now converted and active Soldiers.

In the same letter, the Brigadier refers to an eleven days' Campaign conducted by Mrs. Commissioner Haddar and Adjutant Wilson, in the West. Five important cities were visited, and, in addition to public gatherings, meetings were held for women and Young People. In all, fifty-nine seekers knelt at the mercy seat.

Korea.

Mrs. Col. Hoggard and other women

Officers have organised a most promising work amongst their Korean sisters. A few of their visits are in aristocratic quarters, and they are received very prettily by the ladies. On hearing someone enter the outer apartment, the ladies peep through a tiny window to see who is there. On recognising The Army Officers, they give a glad little cry, run out, take hold of both their guest's hands, draw them into the room and seat them in the warmest place. Then at leave-taking, there is further shaking of the hands, thanks for the visit, etc.

One of our women-Soldiers in Seoul is the widow of the late Korean Ambassador in London, at the time of the Russo-Japanese War. On hearing that Korea had lost its independence in the struggle, he committed suicide. His widow remained in seclusion, a broken-hearted woman. By some means, however, she heard of the coming of The Army to Seoul, and attended some of the meetings. Eventually, she sought and found the Saviour, who has become her Comforter in her deep sorrow. She attends the meetings when she is well enough, and now eagerly studies those parts of the Bible which have been translated into Korean.

the Rock, but whom are now attached to other stations.

Captain H. W. Grant, of H.M.S. "Albatross," paid an official visit to the Home. He not only expressed himself delighted with its cleanliness, comfort, and order, but reported in a similar strain to the authorities.

Several young women have been removed from evil surroundings through the efforts of Mrs. Leib, one being an English girl, who was found in circumstances of great danger. She was sent to England and placed in a Home.

France.

Lieut.-Colonel Roussel is conducting a Campaign in the neighbourhood of the Cevennes Mountains.

At St. Jean du Gard (writes the Colonel), where, by the way, fifty years ago my father, a Protestant minister, was refused the use of a State church for some meetings he was conducting, among our audience were the grandsons of James Cook, the founder of Methodism in France, and a descendant of the famous Oberlin. We had 200 people at the meeting in his church.

At Vigne the pastors of both the State and Free Churches of Ganges, large crowd of people. As evidence that superstition dies hard, the Colonel remarks that the old man, although glad to be rid of his former "god," was afraid either to approach while the work of demolition was going on, or to help in it.

In several villages in the northern part of the Territory, the inhabitants have offered to come over in a body to The Army, and are begging for Officers to commence work in their midst.

Denmark.

Mrs. Booth-Holberg has been appointed by The General, to the command of Denmark.

Colonel and Mrs. Povlsen, who are relinquishing charge of the Territory, have fought a victorious fight during the past three years, and will leave with the satisfaction of knowing that The Army stands in a stronger position in their native land than at the time of their appointment.

Three women Officers recently left Frederikshavn in a small motor-boat, for an island some distance away, where they were to conduct a meeting. They did not, however, arrive at their destination at the time expected, and finally, two or three steamers went to search for them.

Salvation Songs

Holiness.

Tunes.—I will follow Thee, my Saviour, 144; Loved ones gone before, 146.

1 Jesus, I my cross have taken,
All to leave and follow Thee;
Though I be despised, forsaken,
Thou from hence my all shalt be.

Chorus.

I will follow Thee, my Saviour.

Perish every fond ambition,
All I've sought or hoped or known;
Yet how rich is my condition!
God and Heaven are still my own.

And while Thou shalt smile upon me,
God of wisdom, love, and might;
Foes may hate, and friends may shun me,
Show Thy face and all is bright.

Tunes.—Ten thousand, thousand souls, 69. Oh, 'twas love, B. J.,
171; Song Book, No. 219.

2 God loved the world of sinners
lost
And ruined by the Fall!
Salvation full at highest cost,
He offers free to all.

Chorus.

Oh, 'twas love, 'twas wondrous love!

Then now by faith, I claim Him mine,
The risen Son of God;
Redemption by His death, I find,
And cleansing through the flood.
Love brings the glorious fullness in,
And to His saints makes known,
The blessed rest from inbred sin,
Through faith in Christ alone.

Salvation.

Tune.—Happy Song.

3 We are marching on
With shield and banner bright;
We will work for God
And battle for the right;
We will praise His name,
Rejoicing in His might;
And we'll work till Jesus calls.

Chorus.

Then awake, then awake,
Happy song, happy song,
Shout for joy, shout for joy,
As we gladly march along.
We are marching onward, etc.

In the open air
Our Army we prepare,
As we rally round
Our blessed standard there;
And the Saviour's Cross
We will gladly learn to bear,
While we work till Jesus calls.

Tunes.—He leadeth me, S.M.L., 344;
Oh, wash me now, 12; Song
Book, No. 639.

4 He leadeth me! Oh, blessed thought!
Oh, words with heavenly comfort fraught!
What e'er I do, where'er I be—
Still 'tis God's hand that leadeth me!

Chorus.

He leadeth me! He leadeth me!
By His own hand He leadeth me;
His faithful follower I will be,
For by His hand He leadeth me.

Sometimes 'mid scenes of deepest gloom,
Sometimes where Eden's bowers bloom,
By waters still, o'er troubled sea—
Still 'tis His hand that leadeth me!

Lord, I would clasp Thy hand in mine,
Nor ever murmur or repine—
Content, whatever lot I see,
Since 'tis my God that leadeth me.

Free and Easy.

Tunes.—We're travelling home, 128;
Behold, behold the Lamb, 122;
Song Book, No. 79.

5 We're travelling home to Heaven above,
Will you go?

To sing the Saviour's dying love,
Will you go?
Millions have reached that blissful
shore,
Their trials and their labours o'er,
And yet there's room for millions more—
Will you go?

The way to Heaven is straight and plain
Will you go?
Repent, believe, be born again.
Will you go?
The Saviour cries aloud to thee,
"Take up thy cross and follow Me.
And thou shalt My salvation see.
Will you go?"

Tune.—Whoever will, S. M. L., 39.
6 "Whoever heareth!" shout,
about the sound!
Send the blessed tidings all the world around.
Spread the joyful news wherever man is found,
"Whoever will may come."

Chorus.

Whoever cometh need not delay:
Now the door is open, enter while you may;
Jesus is the true, the only Living
Way,
"Whoever will may come."

"Whoever will," the promise is secure:
"Whoever will" forever shall endure;
"Whoever will"—'tis life for ever-
